Foreign Miscellany.

Charles Lyell, the eminent English geologist, has been made a baronet. The official lists in the office of the Commissary General of Prisoners, indicate that the North holds an excess of rebel prisoners rising of 10,000 men. The rebel prints are amusing themselves over Butler's canal. Let them beware ; it may yet prove to them that " last ditch " in which will perish the hopes of the Confederacy. Women are said to have stronger attachments than men. It is not so. A man is often attached to an old hat : " but did you ever know of a woman having an attachment for an old bonnet?" Echo answers

The population of Nashville by the census of 1860 was 16,888; at the beginning of the rebellion it was 25,000; it is now more than 75,000.

At Harvard they are beginning again to ill-treat the Freshmen to such an extent that many persons

"I wonder where those clouds are going?" sighed Flora, pensively, as she pointed with her thin, de'i-cate finger to the heavy funeral masses that floated lazily in the sky. "I think they are going to thunder," said her little brother.

refuse to send their boys to that institution.

The Crown Princess of Prussia, the Princess Royal of England, has painted four pictures of the taking of Duppel. which are to be exhibited at Berlin. All the English Royal family paint a little. Among them the Princess Royal is said to be the most proficient; the Princess Alice of Hesse, the most confident.

Professor Johnson says that a pound of cheese is equal in nutritive value to two pounds of flesh. The Europeans seem to be better acquanted with this fact than our own people. With us cheese is regarded rather us a luxury, while in England it is considered one of the substantial articles of food, and it i snot uncommon for the workmen to make a full meal on bread and cheese alone.

The people of St. Louis, it is said, are having a lively time of terror just now. Seven anacondas, lately imported from the East, escaped from the tank in which they had been kept, and after a three days' search, at last accounts, had not been recaptured.

The Italian Government has just published the results of the first census taken since the different annexations. The population of the entire kingdom is now 21,777,284 souls; so that Italy is the fifth power in Europe by the number of its inhabitants, being superior to Spain and Prussia, the territory of which countries is, however, considerably larger.

LARGE INCOMES .- In an official document, the following sums are given as the income of the Coffector of the port of New York: Salary for the year 1863..... $ 6,340 00 of the suits for forfeiture commenced during the year -in the event that they are decided in favor of the Government. The additional amount from this service will probably reach $30,000-making a total for the year's services of $60,000 .- Sun.

VIGOR OF THE BLOCKADE FLEETS .- Blockade running must be an unprofitable business, judging from the large number of vessels captured and destroyed. An English correspondent says that the whole number which has left the Clyde during the war is a little upward of sixty. In 1861-2, thirty blockade running steamers left. In 1864, twenty-eight left. These had a registered tonnage of 6500 tons, and were manned by 800 hands. Of the thirty which left previously to 1863 only four escaped being captured or burnt, and there is not a day passes now but what we hear of two or three vessels captured, large and small, by the Union fleets. It is rather a risky business now to attempt to run the blockade.

SWITZERLAND .- Geneva has been the scene of fighting and riot. An election for a member of the Council had been held on Sunday, Aug. 20th, and the defeated candidate, a former leader of the French revolution of 1830, attacked the successful party. Four persons were killed and six wounded, but finally the riot was quelled. It is said that this outbreak is part of a plan to give a pretext for the annexation of Geneva to France. Within the last few days numerous arrests and domictliary visits have been made in the Venetian provinces and at Trient in the Tyrol. The police authorities are very active. Great alarm exists among the population.

THE ROCKY MOUNTAIN STATES -The further discoveries of continued and increasing richness in our new territories pale all former estimates, and pleasantly disappoint early expectations. Every day devolops some new value to them, while augmenting the old. These lands are measured and mapped, and millions of acres are already sold. The following statement, compiled from official sources, in an index to their present condition in some respects:

THE QUEEN PRESIDENT -Her Majesty the Queen of England is President of the Female Bible Society of Berkshire county, in which Windsor Castle is situated. In thes giving her name and encouragement to a local Society, for so good an object as the spread of God's Word, the Queen sets an excellent example, worthy of being imitated. There are hundreds and theusands of women in our several countries who ought to embark with zeal in such a work as this, and they would advance their own usefulness and happiness by so doing.

The Queen of England is a model woman. So far as we know her life and works, she adorns every office, domestic and public, which she undertakes; and every wife, mother and woman may take lessons in active virtues from the example of this distinguished sovereign.

THE CARE OF THE EYES .- Never use a desk or table with your face toward a window. In such case the rays of light coming directly upon the pupil of the eyes, and causing an unnatural and forced contraction thereof, soon permanently injures the sight. When your table or desk is near a window, sit so that your face turns from not towards it, while you are writing. If your face is towards the window, the oblique rays strike the eye and injure it nearly as much as the direct rays when you sit in front of the window. It is always best to sit or stand, while reading or writing, with the window behind you, and next to that, with the light coming over the left side -then the light illumes the paper or book, and does not shine abruptly upon the eye-ball. The same remarks are applicable to artificial light. We are often asked which is the best light—gas, candles, oil, or camphene. Our answer is, it is immaterial which, provided the light of either be strong enough and does not flicker .- Scientific American. DEEPEST COAL MINE IN THE WORLD .- The coal mine of Monkwearmouth was visited by a party of members of the British Association, among whom were four ladies. The depth of this mine from the surface is 1,900 feet, and the workings of coal underneath extend to a distance of two miles from the shaft. About 300 persons are employed in it, and 600 tons are mined daily. The heat at the bottom varies from 84 deg. to 90 deg. Fah., and the miners work in an almost nude state. Of all the pursuits by which men gain a living, there is none more toilsome, more dangerous, or more dreadful, in all its circumstances and surroundings, than the life of him who wins coal from the mines.

ADMIRAL LISSOFFSKY AT HOME.—Information has been received at Washington that towards the close of last month Compte Admiral Lissoffsky, accompanied by the officers of the Russian squadron lately in America, by command of the Czar, made a visit to the United States Legation, at St. Petersburg, for the purpose of expressing to the Minister of the United States their cordial thanks for the unprecedented hospitalities shown them during their sejourn in this country. The American Minister replied in terms of the warmest admiration of his Imperial Majesty, and of consideration for the brave and gentlemanly officers present; and furthermore, gave utterance to his desire and conviction that no other rivalries could be possible between the two countries than such as were based upon the wish to surpass each other in he performance of reciprocal benefits.

THE LARGEST FEE -Several papers copy the statement that a lawyer in Cincinnati has received a fee of $45,000 in a railroad case recently gained by him, and it is added that this is " probably the largest fee ever received by any lawyer in this country from a single case." But we understand that one of the lawyers in the Rose will case, received a fee of $50,-000 for his services. And in the J. C. Fremont Mariposa claim it is said that one of the lawyers was paid a fee of $140,000.

AN ANECDOTE OF FARRAGUT .-- In his speech at Auburn, Mr. Seward related the following anecdote of Admiral Farragut :- " Everybody admired Farragut's beroism in climbing the topmast to direct the battle but there was another 'particular' of that contest that no less forcibly illustrates his heroic character. 'Admiral,' said one of his officers, the night before the battle, 'won't you consent to give Jack a glass of grog in the morning-not enough to make him drunk, but just enough to make him fight cheerfully?" 'Well,' replied the Admiral, 'I have been to sea considerable, and have seen a battle or two, but I have never found that I wanted rum to enable me to do my duty. I will order two cups of good coffee to each man at two o'clock, and at eight o'clock I will pipe all hands to breakfast in Mobile Bay.' And he did it.

The British Army and Navy Gazette thinks the recent campaign in Schleswig shows a great superiority in its vigor and efficiency, over what it calls the "slow and fruitless campaigns in the American civil war." The New York Times in commenting on this, remarks that the scene of war in Europe is one of the flattest countries on the continent, the roads are a thousand years old and built in the best manner, every path and hillock mapped out through the whole country, and the territory very limited in extent,hardly larger than some counties in Virginia, while in America military operations extend over regions hundreds of miles in extent, rough and inaccessible, covered with forests and cut up with rapid streams having steep banks, and of the topography of which very little is known. If half of Europe were engaged in war or the conquest of a country like Russia undertaken by the Western nations of the continent, it thinks they could better understand our military difficulties and the reality of our successes. A single instance forms a very poor criterion by which to decide a question like this. Sufficient instances could be found in the military history of Europe to show that there have been slow and fruitless campaigns there as well as here.

Money .- Money is a queer institution. It buys provender, satisfies justice, and heals wounded honor. Everything resolves itself into cash, from stock-jobbing to building churches. Childhood craves pennies, youth aspires to dimes, manhood is swayed by the mighty dollar. The blacksmith swings the sledge, the lawyer pleads for his clients, the judge decides the case of life and death for a salary. Money makes the man-therefore man must make money, if he would be respected by fools-for the eye of the world looks through golden spectacles. It buys Brussels carpets, lace curtains, gilded cornices, rich furniture, and builds marble mansions. It drives us to church in splendid equipages, and pays the rent of the pews. It buys silks and jewelry for my lady -it commands obsequious attention. It enables us to be charitable, to send Bibles to the heathen. It gilds the ragged scenes of life, and spreads over our rugged scenes of existence a velvet carpet, soft to our tread ; the rude turmoils and scenes are encased in a gilt frame. It bids care vanish, soothes the anguish of the bed of sickness-stops short of nothing save the grim destroyer, whose relentless hand spares none, but levels all mortal distinction, and teaches poor humanity that it is dust. This wealth pauses on the brink of eternity-the beggar and the millionaire rest side by side beneath the sod, and rise in equality to answer the final summons.

THE BLOCKADE OF WILMINGTON .- Now that the forts which command the entrance to Mobile Bay are in our possession, ten or twelve sail of steamers. which have been employed in the blockade of Mobile, will probably be sent to aid in shutting up Wilmington, N. C. It is a shame that a nation so eminent for nautical enterprise as we are, should be short of ships after three years of war, yet this is the fact. Not only are we lacking in ships, but most of those which we have are almost worn out with incessant service, and we have but few left to take their places. Some of our enterprising merchants, foreseeing this want, built vessels of the requisite speed, and stability to carry armaments, and offered them to the Navy Department. But the men who have charge of this important branch of the public service, seem determined to set their faces against all who have the patriotism to show them their duty, therefore they refuse vessels of the very class now required to perfect the blockade. We have more than once called their attention to several merchant steamers, which could be easily armed, and have urged them either to seize or buy them for the public service, but without effect. We repeat our suggestion that they obtain the steamers Norman, Saxon, Franconia, all swift propellers with compact machinery which can be easily rendered shot-proof at a trifling cost, and which might be of great value in hunting pirates, or in perfecting the blockade.

In this connection we would also suggest, that when any of our vessels come within range of blockade breakers to open fire upon them and keep blazing away until they are captured. These vessels are up to all manner of tricks. If a vessel cease firing and heave to for the purpose of taking possession of a blockade runner, the chances are that she will make

This was the case with the U. S. Ship Dacotah. She brought a blockade breaker to, the captain of which sung out-" For God's sake knock off firing ; I have surrendered," and, while the Dacotah was preparing to take possession of her, she durted off under a full head of steam and escaped. Now if an incessant fire of grape had been kept up on her until every man had been driven off her deck, she would have been captured.

This was the invariable practice in the British Navy during her last great war, whenever a privateer was brought to, and we believe it ought to be universally adopted by our own. England is sending vessels of extraordinary speed to break our blockade. and we ought to use every means at our command to destroy or capture them .- Bost. Com. Bull.

Scientific Gossip .- In this day of mechanical contrivance there are many terms in use which are not understood except among well-informed mechanics and engineers. Thus the strains which produce ruptures are five : tensile, compressive, transverse, shearing and torsional. The tensile strain is, that produced by a force tending to pull the particles of a body from each other; the compressive brings them together; a transverse strain acts at right angles to the body, such as occurs in bridges and joists; a shearing strain is that occasioned by cutting across; and torsion, when there is a twisting in shafts, such as railroad axles are liable to

It is a curious and unsuspected fact that solar light is defective as to the showing of colors. Those shown by the spectrum in the sodium flame are invisible in daylight. This is a providential defect, for otherwise we should be confounded by a perpetual display of colors in the air.
